Insight Catastrophe Group Appoints Michael Minter as Senior Vice President, Decision Support Services

New York, NY, March 9, 2010 – Insight Catastrophe Group, an insurance portfolio and risk advisor to the property and casualty industry, today announced the appointment of Michael Minter as senior vice president of its Decision Support Services (DSS) business. In this position, Mr. Minter will be responsible for the sales and development of the firm’s patent-pending suite of tools that analyze and assess profitability in real time and improve pricing and risk selection for catastrophe-exposed risks.

“Insight’s DSS has set a new standard for profitability assessment and risk management and we are excited about its growth potential with Michael leading our marketing and business development efforts,” said Andrew DiLoreto, chief executive officer of Insight Catastrophe Group. “His technical expertise and industry experience will enable us to further expand the reach of these tools and assist us in creating unique solutions to meet our clients’ needs.”

Before joining Insight, Mr. Minter was senior vice president of sales and marketing at Baseline Management Company where he helped launch an on-demand catastrophe modeling platform. Prior to Baseline, he served as vice president, client development at Risk Management Solutions.

“Insight’s DSS delivers real-time profitability capabilities that truly meet the needs of today’s underwriters,” said Mr. Minter. “I am excited to be a part of this innovative team and look forward to bringing DSS to clients who need it most.”

Mr. Minter holds a Bachelor of Arts from the University of Texas at Austin. He will be based in New York.
